

Brad Sorensen

Brad Sorensen is an Associate Vice President in Corporate Market Planning for Nationwide Insurance. He has responsibilities for supporting various business units within the Nationwide Enterprise in the development of market plans and strategies. Brad also is leading efforts in coordinating the overall strategies and initiatives around the Small Business market for Nationwide. He is a graduate from The Ohio State University and holds several financial and insurance designations.